

Air Separation Plant Market is Driven by Increasing Demand in Chemical, Gas, Metallurgy and others Industries

Air Separation Plant Market Analysis by Type (20,000-40,000 m3/h), Process (Cryogenic distillation process), Gas, Application and Region - Forecast to 2022

PUNE, MAHARASHTRA, INDIA, March 24, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Market Highlights

Air separation plant has seen a rise in demand in the various industries chemical, gas, metallurgy, and others industries. Air separation plants are used to separate the atmospheric air into its various primary components like nitrogen, oxygen, and other gases. Air separation plant has seen a rise in demand across various industries such as chemical, gas, metallurgy, and others industries.

Oil & Gas and steel industry are estimated to be one of the biggest contributors for the growth of the air separation plant market. Steel industries use large amount of oxygen for basic steel making process which in turn will drive the market for air separation plant. Global Air Separation Plant Market size is expected to show a growth at CAGR of about 4% from 2016 to 2022.

Major Key Players are Linde AG, Air Liquide S.A., Praxair, Inc., Air Products and Chemicals, Inc., Taiyo Nippon Sanso Corporation, Universal Industrial Gases, Enerflex Ltd. and Gas Engineering LLC”

Market Research Analysis

The market is highly application based. The factors contributing to the growth of the Global Air Separation Plant Market is the increasing demand in steel industry and stringent policies taken by various countries to promote the safe use of air separation methods for industrial uses. The Asia-Pacific region has the largest share in the air separation plant market. Emerging countries like China, India and Japan are witnessing an infrastructural development, increasing demand for steel to improve infrastructure, and increasing chemical industries.
