PDFpen 9.0 Adds 100+ Enhancements; Annotations, Export Options, and More

PDFpenPro 9.0, Offering Professional Level PDF Editing, Adds Chinese, Japanese and Korean OCR

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, UNITED STATES, April 12, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Smile, the developer of productivity applications for Mac®, iPhone® and iPad®, launches PDFpen and PDFpenPro 9.0, a new major version of its all-purpose PDF editing tool for Mac. Version 9 introduces over 100 enhancements covering document annotations, Tables of Contents, and export options.

Annotation support is more advanced, including faster access from the Sidebar and more options for copying annotation text.
Navigation by Table of Contents has even greater precision and PDFpenPro users can create and edit entries from a new contextual menu.

New export options include PNG, JPEG, flattened PDF, and more TIFF options. Version 9 also allows for web, fax, and print dpi resolutions of 72, 200, 300, and 600.

PDFpenPro users can perform OCR on horizontal Asian language documents in Chinese, Japanese and Korean.

The OCR text layer, which can be generated in PDFpen, is now removable. Documents can link directly to selected pages in other locally stored documents, and documents which use JavaScript to perform calculations and contain Print buttons are now supported.

Search-and-highlight joins search-and-replace in the Find menu, and two more custom highlighter colors are available. The new Hand tool allows for panning as well as zooming in and out, and version 9 also adds a line numbering option.

"From annotations to export options, we've improved PDFpen and PDFpenPro 9 in over 100 ways, great and small," said Philip Goward, Smile Founder. "For our Pro users, we've paid special attention to their needs with improved Table of Contents editing and Asian language OCR. We're thrilled that PDFpen 9 is our most advanced version yet."

PDFpen and PDFpenPro 9 work with PDFpen for iPad & iPhone version 2, allowing seamless editing across devices when used with Dropbox or iCloud.
