“The Konstant developers have gone beyond what web can do, and they set out the bar for customer satisfaction,” said Vipin Jain, CEO and co-founder at Konstant Infosolutions. He also added, “Our team submits the best prototype to the clients, which underscore the project’s versatility and feasibility in the long run.”

Additionally, Konstant has shown outstanding performance in three areas: cloud-based dev, advanced web development and enterprise web development. Some of the key solutions for which one can hire dedicated web developers from Konstant are customer relationship management (CRM), third-party integration, eCommerce-B2B & B2C, workflow management, cloud solutions and any custom business application development.

Konstant continues to achieve the highest rating in PHP web development, HTML5 development and Web application development for many years now.

The best thing about these rankings is their authenticity as they perform rigorous evaluation based on various parameters including quality of the web application developed, customer satisfaction, client testimonials, adherence to budget and time limitations, project management, collaboration and communication, cost-effectiveness and flexibility to the changing project demands.

The rankings are based on expert opinions and program excellence and statistical indicators that measure the quality of project managers, business analysts, quality analysts, designers and developer and the company’s management. Beyond this web discipline, these review firms also rank companies in mobile app development, eCommerce development, Magento development, Android app development, iPhone development, Cloud solutions and other categories based solely on the ratings of clients and customers. Fortunately, Konstantinfo ensures a place in each category.

One of the striking aspects here is that in all the web development rankings, Konstant Infosolutions enjoys a top 10 position. From last year, its positions rose significantly.
