Wiseguyreports.Com Adds "Cups and Lids Packaging Global Industry Analysis, Size, Share, Growth, Trends and Forecast 2017 To 2022"

According to Statistics MRC, the Global Cups and Lids Packaging market is estimated to be $20.89 billion in 2015 and is projected to grow at a Compound Annual Growth Rate (CAGR) of 11.1% to reach $43.82 billion by 2022. Growth will be fueled by the significant role of beverages as revenue generators for restaurants, coupled with the increasing focus on specialty beverages among foodservice vendors. The growing incidence of snacking in place of conventional meals will be beneficial for single portion packaging formats such as cups.

Packaging cup segment will experience fast growth due to ease and portability. There has also been wider use of clear plastic cups, which allow for greater visibility of the beverage. Lid growth is fueled by growing percentage of drinking cups using lids and increased demand for costlier specialty lids. The fastest growth rates are expected in emerging nations of Asia Pacific. In contrast, market saturation in developed nations will moderate overall growth.
