Kate Hagerty of Soul Purpose LLC on Life Purpose, Facing Fears & Realization

ACC NEWS Talk Radio Spotlights Kate Hagerty of Soul Purpose LLC

Denver, CO – Purpose can be elusive. Purpose can be lost. Most importantly, purpose can always be attained. No matter the phase or station we're at in life, it's common for people to struggle with finding or maintaining their purpose. Direction, goals, hopes and dreams for success are all at stake in the journey to live a life with purpose.

With over 30 years of experience in sales, marketing and advertising, Kate Hagerty combines her certifications as a Life Purpose, Relationship and Grief Intuitive Coach and her intuitive gifts to help people discover their true purpose and how to live in alignment with it. She works with people to help them finally gain a clear vision of their future and the specific next steps they need to take to align their lives with their purpose.

Kate grew up in a family where she was one of four children. Her parents struggled with financial and marital instability and, as a result of this strained, emotionally unstable environment, Kate grew up often feeling not seen, heard or valued. In fact, she will tell you that she found it to be a consistent challenge not to feel invisible. Rather than dwell on this feeling, Kate cultivated it and became highly compassionate and understanding towards others. Coming from a situation of financial woes, Kate set high standards for her career aspirations to achieve Vice President and Chief Marketing Officer levels in corporate America. Following this path, Kate was well on her way to achieving her ultimate goals until an emptiness started to overtake her.

“I was 47, making six figures in the advertising industry, doing what I thought I loved and what I thought I was supposed to be doing and just started feeling like I was meant for more... something bigger. I would often break down in tears on the drive to work and would have to give myself a pep talk just to leave the parking garage and actually go up to the office. Every day I felt more and more like my soul was literally drying up into a prune. I realized there had to be more to life,” exclaims Hagerty.

With her intuitive gifts and a strong sense of compassion that she possessed since her childhood, Kate set out for certification in coaching and became triple certified as a Life Purpose, Relationship and Grief Intuitive Coach. Since founding Soul Purpose, LLC in 2011, Kate has worked one-on-one with men and women ages 24 and up to overcome many challenging issues, including emotional pain and damage, grief, depression and low-self esteem, in order to finally arrive at a place of peace and clarity around their purpose, and with tools they can use to continue moving forward.

Through one-on-one sessions, workshops and multiple programs tailored specifically around the client's needs, Kate has successfully built a solid client base that has benefited and attests to the positive results they've experienced through working with her. It all begins with a complimentary phone session to determine the issues at hand. This session also enables Kate to build a working plan and path to most effectively reach positive outcomes for the client. With most of her sessional work conducted by phone, clients across the globe can reach out to Kate for her amazing services. Even more unique, Kate incorporates a media service that records every session. This enables clients to save and review each session as often as they need to in order to continue to garner new information, guidance and support.

“How we feel about our life purpose and how our relationships are going is often intertwined—if one is ‘off’ the other usually is too. But together, we identify the issues at hand and create a personalized plan to follow. One step at a time, people are able to discover their wings, remember how to fly and significantly transform their lives. I considerate to be a real honor and privilege to be a part of each client's journey.”
