“Photography is the practice of capturing images, and in the case of David Wiener, the practice is to capture beauty waiting to be discovered. His work turns a combination of colors, shapes, angles, and lights into a masterpiece. It’s elegant and intriguing. You always want to find out what details a particular piece focuses on. I look forward to the interest his work will receive from our attendees at Art Expo as they discover how innovative his style is,” said Alcinda Saphira, owner of the Saphira and Ventura Gallery in New York City.

Over the past 30+ years, David has created art in various mediums using his keen sense of style, elegance, and timelessness. His design talents have been used by Ferrari, Nike, Columbia, the U.S. Ski Team, Deer Valley Ski Resort, and other high profile clients. In his latest creation, Photographic Constructs, David exposes the viewer to new ways of seeing the world around them. Shooting detail photographs of a variety of subject matter, he creates unique patterns in modern, abstract “collages,” capturing the beauty within those elements the human eye so often overlooks.

“Photographic Constructs has allowed me to capture elements within architecture, nature, and technology, using my vision to express a novel perspective to the viewer, challenging them to realize just how beautiful detail taken out of context can be,” said Wiener.

David's creations are in the private collections of Jean Todt, Sanjay Dutt, Peter Gabriel, Peter Frampton, Alan Parsons, Michael Schumacher, Pat Metheny, Ferrari SpA, the Mandarin Oriental, and one of his works was recently auctioned at Sotheby's for the Waterkeeper Alliance. He has been commissioned by several corporations and featured in numerous international media including Paddock – Monaco Grand Prix Edition, Fortune, Newsweek, Forbes, Time-Life Books, PBS, and others.
