According to CRI, the telecommunications equipment industry will grow slowly in the years to come. With the saturation of Chinese 4G users, the growth of telecommunications terminal equipment has slowed down and so has the demand for telecommunications systems. Although China's telecommunications equipment industry is faced with complex competitions, its international competitiveness will still be enhanced and therefore the export will grow steadily. In this report, CRI analyzes 50 telecommunications equipment manufacturing enterprises listed in A-share market in China.

The report is composed of two parts: the first part is enterprise profiles and the second part is the operation status of these enterprises in the recent decade (presently 2006 to 2016, we will update it to the latest as time goes by).

The operation status is demonstrated from the following perspectives: (1) financial indexes, such as earnings per share, book value per share (BPS), sales per share, net cash flow per share, return on net worth and debt to asset ratio; (2) indexes on the income statement, such as revenue, operating profit, net profit and EBIT; (3) indexes on the income statement, such as revenue, operating profit, net profit and EBIT; (4) indexes on the balance sheet, such as liquid asset, fixed asset, current liability, non-current liability, capital reserve and shareholders' equity.
