FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

April 20, 2017 (Danvers, MA) – Recovery Centers of America (RCA), the fastest growing addiction treatment provider in the U.S., and The Plymouth House, New England's premier Twelve-Step Retreat, announced plans for a weekly Family Recovery Meeting at RCA's new Boston Center for Addiction Treatment (BCAT) in Danvers, MA, beginning Monday May 15, 2017.

For over 15 years, The Plymouth House has been focused on helping people in the Boston area recover from alcohol and drug addiction, and families have always been at the center of the work we do,”

Aaron Shephard, CEO of the Plymouth House

Open to all families in the Greater Boston area struggling with addiction issues, the weekly meeting will be led by Plymouth House team members from the Twelve Step-model addiction treatment center in Plymouth, New Hampshire. Supplemented by the resources and staff at the five-star RCA center that opened last year. The collective expertise of Plymouth and BCAT will assist families in making better decisions for themselves and their family members while helping them navigate through crisis, treatment and on to a lifetime of recovery.

“As RCA's neighborhood model expands and serves more patients, additional opportunities for families to become well-versed and educated on treatment and recovery becomes critical,” said Brad Greenstein, CEO of BCAT. “Plymouth House's Twelve-Step-based model for patients and families is entirely congruent and complimentary to RCA's world-class acute levels of care.”

The meeting, now scheduled for every Monday from 7:00 pm – 8:30 pm beginning on May 15th, will provide resources for any family in the greater Boston area to learn more about the Twelve Steps, and how to apply those principles into their own lives and families.

“For over 15 years, The Plymouth House has been focused on helping people in the metro Boston area recover from the disease of alcohol and drug addiction, and families have always been at the center of the work we do,” said Aaron Shepard, CEO of The Plymouth House. “As RCA expands their work in the Boston area we are excited to provide our family programming to the community. We’ve worked with thousands of families in New England and around the country, and this partnership will allow us to provide our unique and “recovery-centered” solution to even more families to change and save lives.”
