

TSI Incorporated Achieves ISO9001:2015 Certification

TSI Incorporated successfully obtained ISO9001:2015 certification at its North America headquarters on March 10, 2017.

SHOREVIEW, MINNESOTA, UNITED STATES, April 25, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TSI Incorporated, an industry leader in designing and manufacturing precision measurement instrumentation, successfully obtained ISO9001:2015 certification at its North America headquarters on March 10, 2017. ISO9001:2015 is a significant evolutionary revision to the established ISO9001:2008 standard. ISO9001 is one of the most frequently implemented quality standards for companies worldwide.

"TSI Incorporated has a long-standing commitment to providing high-quality instruments and service to our customers," states Tom Kennedy, TSI President. "Achieving ISO9001:2015 certification reinforces our pledge to meet or exceed our customers' needs and expectations through continual improvement of our processes, products and services."

TSI is proud to lead in the industry in achieving ISO9001:2015, well ahead of the required certification date of September 2018. Quality is a fundamental tenet of TSI's culture and business as demonstrated by this latest certification.
