

Blackjack Bailey VR Arrives on the Vive

Virtual reality blackjack comes to the HTC Vive and with a 40% discount launch price.

LAS VEGAS, NV, UNITED STATES, April 27, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Las Vegas, Nevada -April 27th, 2017 - iCandy Games, in joint collaboration with Hologram Software LTD. announces the launch of Blackjack Bailey VR, a casino style blackjack game available for the HTC Vive through Steam.

Blackjack Bailey VR is a casual casino card game played in virtual reality. The game features a cute and charismatic female dealer that goes by the name of Bailey, who behaves just like a dealer at a real Las Vegas casino. The game uses simulated gambling, so there are no real money transactions within the game, it's just for fun and practicing blackjack.

Features:

- _ Single player 21 in a casual casino environment
- _ A cute and charismatic dealer
- _ Simulated gambling for fun and practice
- _ Las Vegas casino house rules
- _ Single deck blackjack
- _ Comfortable seated play
- _ Unlimited play with no in game purchases

“This was a joint collaboration between myself (iCandy Games) and Hologram Software LTD. I handled the art and design while they worked on the code. My goal from the beginning was to create an immersive, comfortable and familiar game experience for VR. I thought a casino game would be a good design choice because you play seated and blackjack is considered one of the most popular card games worldwide, so there is familiarity along with that.”

Mike Amerson, President and Creative director at iCandy Games added;

“I live in Las Vegas and my wife used to be a 21 dealer at the MGM grand. She played a big part in this as well. She inspired the look of the character Bailey, and did the voice overs. She also helped me with animation reference as well as rules of the game. The resulting effort was the culmination of nearly a year's work and we are happy to be bringing it to the HTC Vive."

Device Requirements:
HTC Vive + compatible computer
200 MB storage space

Pricing and Availability:
Regular price: $9.99
