Description

Wiseguyreports.Com Adds “Smart Glass-Market Demand, Growth, Opportunities and Analysis of Top Key Player Forecast To 2022” To Its Research Database

The Global Smart Glass Market accounted for $27.2 billion in 2014 and is estimated to reach $126.7 billion by 2022, registering a compound annual growth rate of 21.2% during the forecast period 2014 to 2022. The smart glass market is influenced by the growth in automotive Industry, eco-friendly & green buildings and non-electric technologies such as thermochromics. Amplified demand for smart glasses in the aviation industry also hastens the growth of this market.

Lack of knowledge among consumers and high cost compared to the substitutes is creating hindrance to the market growth. The saturation of smart glass applications in the automotive industry, particularly in emerging countries such as India, China, and Brazil, presents a cosmic future for this market.
