Toscano is a traditional Italian olive oil blend and of the three main olive varieties from Tuscany: Frantoio (50%), Moraiolo (30%) and Leccino (approximately 20%). This flavorful extra virgin olive oil ("EVOO") was harvested in late 2016. Once opened, olive oil is best consumed with 12 months. This Italian EVOO has a listed shelf-life of March, 2019.

“

What better way to celebrate Mother's Day than with a premium extra virgin olive oil from Tuscany and a wooden olive boat. Bring the taste and elegance of Mediterranean dining into your home?”

Sheila May, Owner

The wooden olive boat measures just under 14 inches and is a great way to serve gourmet olives to guests as an appetizer.

"This olive oil and wooden olive boat gift pack will definitely transport you to the 'Old World' where unadulterated EVOO and wooden serving dishes are treasured. Dine like an Italian with food products that showcase the traditional values of Italian cuisine," says Gourmet Living owner Sheila May,

The 3 varieties of olives used in Toscano are harvested in the morning and crushed in the afternoon to extract the highest quality of oil and the maximum level of freshness and antioxidant compounds.

Olives are typically harvested in Tuscany between the 15th of October and the 20th of November. Green or half-colored olives tend to have the best combination of aroma and color.

What better way to serve olives than in a wooden olive boat crafted from olive wood. It is easy to clean and the natural oils of the olives will add luster to the wood.

Sold in a distinctive 500ml bottle, Toscano will last at least a year after it has been opened for the first time.
