About Marine Deck Machinery Market

The global marine deck machinery market is dependent on the performance of the global shipbuilding industry. This is because marine deck machineries are essential for water-borne vehicles such as boats, cruises, merchant and passenger ships, tankers, and bulk carriers to move on water. Therefore, a greater demand for building new ships will likely lead to higher demand for marine deck machineries.

The analysts forecast the global marine deck machinery market to grow at a CAGR of 2.93% during the period 2017-2021.
