

Israels & Neuman, PLC files FINRA Arbitration Claim Against Morgan Stanley Related to Energy Sector Stock Losses

PITTSBURGH, PA, USA, May 5, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE: Israels & Neuman, PLC announces that it has filed a Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) arbitration claim against Morgan Stanley on behalf of an aggrieved investor. The claim was filed in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

The claim alleges that the investor was serviced by one of Morgan Stanley's former advisors in the Pittsburgh area, Charles Correal, who is alleged to have recommended numerous high risk investments in oil and energy sector stocks, such as Walter Energy, Inc., InterOil Corp., Fusion-IO, Inc., U.S. Silca Holdings, and Safe Bulkors.

The claim further alleges Morgan Stanley's agent adopted a one-size-fits-all approach to investing, resulting in his client's investment portfolios becoming too heavily concentrated in the energy sector, which led to substantial losses. Accordingly, the claim alleges liability against Morgan Stanley, based upon its and its agent's alleged failure to diversify the aggrieved investor's holdings into other non-energy sectors.
