

Tax experts and finance heads to meet in Dubai to discuss VAT this September

DUBAI, UNITED ARAB EMIRATES, May 9, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- With VAT rolling out in the GCC from 2018, companies are currently getting ready to prepare their systems, train staff and staff up before the introduction of the VAT regime. In a region where indirect tax is not the norm this presents many logistical, administrative and commercial challenges for businesses.

GCC VAT FORUM

In light of this, IQPC Middle East is organising the 3rd edition of the GCC VAT Forum in Dubai, UAE, scheduled to take place from 11-12 September 2017. This 2-day event will bring together leading tax consultants from PwC, KPMG, EY and Deloitte, alongside CFOs and Heads of Finance from leading companies in the GCC to address the pricing, supply chain and cash flow issues, change in internal policies and ways to avoid penalties ahead of the upcoming VAT implementation next year.

It will also feature one-to-one consultation sessions with the tax experts from the Big 4 so companies can get first-hand information and advice for VAT.
