About Male Aesthetics

One of the aspects of modern life that is considered essential is appearance. The desire to look presentable has led to a notable growth in the cosmetology industry. Cosmetic or aesthetic surgery is evolved from the reconstructive procedure, and hence, some of the techniques are similar whether they are used for reconstructive or cosmetic purposes. For instance, liposuction is a reconstructive procedure done to gain normal appearance after abnormal weight gain. However, it is also considered as a cosmetic procedure to streamline body shape.

The analysts forecast the global male aesthetics market to grow at a CAGR of 7.17% during the period 2017-2021.
