

President Trump Must Go All Out To Build An Emotionally Healthy America.

As wisdom springs from emotional health; the focus must shift from trying to understand, define and teach wisdom to creating emotional health.

RIDGEFIELD PARK, NEW JERSEY, US, May 12, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The biggest problem is our experts lumping together the brain and mind as the single entity of the mind and as a result, we have brain and mind education as just mind education. So we keep teaching the mind to do the brain's job. Teaching the mind to heal the brain is like trying to fix the gear when the clutch needs fixing.

The ills of society from crime, corruption, drug addictions, student failures, unhappiness etc. have remained the same as all our previous leaders have tried to address the symptoms instead of healing the cause. They all try to teach the mind when it is the brain that needs healing. It is like the clutch is damaged and they keep fixing the brakes.

President Trump must start with the following innovative agenda.

WISDOM THROUGH EMOTIONAL HEALTH WILL MAKE AMERICA GREATER THAN EVER BEFORE.

To fix the ills of society efforts are directed to changing minds through mind education; while it is the emotional baggage of the brain that needs to be healed.”

Sajid Khan, Wisdom Power is Self Image Power.

The whole world is looking for answers to fix the ills of society. All efforts are directed to changing minds through mind education; while it is the emotional baggage of the brain that needs to be healed. The time has come to focus on healing the brain.

Governments try to fix, manage and control the ills of society by passing better and better laws based on carrots and sticks. It is like passing a law to punish or reward a nitrogen producing machine to produce oxygen.

There is a one-step solution to improving the economy, education, crime, greed, corruption, rivalries, relationships, parenting, health, happiness etc. By introducing Brain/Emotional-Health Education and creating emotional health for the young and the old. The path to a Wise Society is not via Teaching Wisdom; it is through creating Emotional Baggage Free Brains. Emotional Health is the Key to a Wise Society!

As wisdom springs from emotional health; the focus must shift from trying to understand, define and teach wisdom to creating emotional health. The following steps are needed to ensure wisdom/emotional-health:

1) Creating a compulsory program for training parents in nurturing healthy self-identity/emotional-intelligence/brain/mind/wisdom/emotional-health/self-image in their young.

2) Create brain/mind/self-identity/emotional-health/wisdom/emotional-intelligence-inspectors/coaches who must track and guide/coach the brain/mind/self-identity development from birth on wards till the infant enters school.

3) Train teachers to detect and heal emotionally challenged self-identities of the young and the old students.

4) Create self-identity/wisdom/emotional-intelligence/self-image/happiness seminars for those older.

5) Create a whole new subject for all grade levels; that transforms brains and minds into super-emotional-health/wisdom.

6) Our leaders must use the bully pulpit to wake up America to the damage that we are doing to our future generations by raising them on the false belief that each one is the best. Each must be raised as Tiger Woods' dad raised Tiger. He did not tell Tiger that Tiger is the best; he made Tiger become the best.

7) Just as learning each extra subject like math and science; even painting and learning to play music adds extra power to the brain, similarly learning computer coding/programming adds extra power to the brain. Computer programming must be added as a compulsory subject for PreK-12 and beyond.

8) We create emotional health in our girls as we bring them up humble. We bring up our boys macho. It is the machoness in our boys that generates emotionally challenged brains that lead to all these ills of society. No wonder our girls are better in most fields compared to our boys. We must create a Wise
