

GSM North American Tour 2017 – Make it Happen!

Gas Station Mentality is launching a crowdfunding campaign for their 2017 North American Tour through www.indiegogo.com.

MONTREAL, QUEBEC, CANADA, May 23, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- This summer, bring an “electric prog fusion” band, Gas Station Mentality, to your hometown. Gas Station Mentality is on the cutting edge of the music scene in Montreal, Canada, and is made up of three wonderful, fun and hard working individuals; Blake Hawley-Guitar, Antoine Pelegrin-Bass, and Guillaume Pilote-Drums.

GSM gained immediate international and national attention after the release of their self-titled debut album in 2015. The album was propelled into the limelight after GSM performed at The Festival International de Jazz de Montréal. Blake was awarded the title of Best Guitarist at the festival and was given a beautiful, handmade electric guitar built by the master luthier from Finland, Juha Ruokangas. Since then, the group’s recognition has been growing like wildfire, and in a short amount of time, their music has become an anthem to the ears of jazz and rock fans in Canada, US, Finland and across the globe.

What is the recipe for the rapidly growing success of GSM? Heartfelt songs, awe-inspiring live performances, an intense work ethic and a very close relationship to the fans. Not to mention the masterful musicianship apparent in their recordings. Blake recently completed his master’s degree in jazz performance from McGill University while touring with GSM and recording the band’s latest album.

After 2 years of preparation, the band is finally ready to release its second album Systematically Manufactured

; a most compelling collection of songs that cross all generic boundaries and somehow maintain an element of familiarity. The group will be embarking on a 2017 North American Tour to support this this latest album and they are looking for your support to bring their performance to as many cities and towns across North America and even the world as possible, that's why they are launching this crowdfunding campaign via Gas Station Mentality wants to hand-deliver this latest album to each and every supporter. Seriously, look at the perks for supporting their campaign. The tour is set to begin this July and last through the fall; they are releasing their new album on May 26 with album launch performances New York City on May 31st and in Montreal on June 9.

The band's campaign goal is set at $8,000, the more money raised through this campaign, the larger the tour will be. The perks for donating to this campaign are truly outstanding, for only $10, backers will receive a download of the new album as well as the official GSM t-shirt. For a donation of $80, backers will receive a Skype lesson with any member of Gas Station Mentality as well as physical copies of the first album and the new album both signed by the band. With a donation of $300, you can have the band perform for you anywhere in North America either in your home or at your favorite venue.

GSM has only one month left to reach their target of $8,000, support this campaign today. Support The Way. The Life. The MENTALITY. For more information or to back this campaign, visit: <https://www.indiegogo.com/projects/gsm-north-american-tour-2017-music-metal/>
