

IT Governance exhibiting at the General Data Protection Regulation Conference in Manchester

ELY, CAMBRIDGESHIRE, UNITED KINGDOM, May 26, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- IT Governance, the leading provider of data protection expertise and solutions, will be exhibiting at the General Data Protection Regulation Conference in Manchester on 30 May 2017.

The one-day General Data Protection Regulation Conference brings together industry experts to discuss the new data protection law and explain how it will alter the landscape for data collection and processing in the UK.

The GDPR overhauls data protection laws for data subjects, and organisations worldwide will be required to update their policies and review their procedures in order to comply with the Regulation by 25 May 2018.

Alan Calder, the founder and executive chairman of IT Governance, said: "Businesses have one year left to achieve compliance with the stringent requirements of the GDPR. The Regulation requires a significant amount of work and time. The GDPR conference will allow us to raise awareness and inform individuals involved in compliance projects about the requirements that need to be met to comply with the Regulation".

The event is designed to provide an introduction to the GDPR, and help attendees understand their obligations under the Regulation and get assistance with new practices, technology and software to improve data collection and management. It also provides an opportunity to network with others and discuss the challenges posed by GDPR compliance.

Delegates attending the General Data Protection Regulation Conference are encouraged to visit IT Governance's stand and speak to its data protection experts about the GDPR compliance support and solutions available.
