

Teaching in a foreign country sounds exciting – and it is - But..

Before you respond to that ad to teach in a foreign country you will want to read Michael Durack's latest book

LONG BEACH, CA, USA, May 25, 2017

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Before you respond to that ad to teach in a foreign country , or to travel the world and seek your fortunes abroad you will want to read Michael Durack's latest book – “Conversations With A Deaf Cat”. It is a well written book about teaching and working abroad. He chronicles his “Adventures” teaching English and working in a foreign country. He did find adventure, excitement, and it was definitely a change, but it might not be what you would expect.

Synopsys: Conversations With A Deaf Cat - (And Other Confessions of a Foreign English Teacher)
Ever wonder what it's like to work in a foreign country, experience new foods and cultures and maybe find a way to help other people while you do it? Most people who become foreign teachers imagine going off to some exotic destination to share their knowledge with people who don't have the same advantages as them. Sounds like an exciting and noble adventure, right?

But what happens if you take the plunge and go off to another country where you don't even speak the language and EVERYTHING GOES WRONG? How do you deal with getting stuck doing a job you never wanted to do, dealing with deceptive employers, or not getting paid on time, if at all?

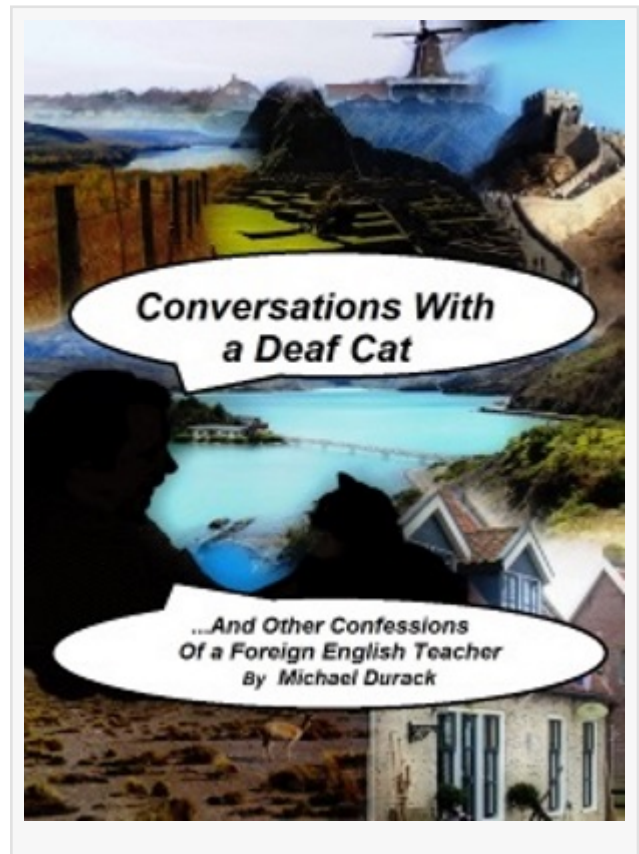

“

Michael Durack book had insight I was looking for. I had always wondered what it would be like to teach English in Asia. This book is a must read if you are thinking of teaching abroad.”

James Klien

REALLY like.

Pages: 253

Conversations With a Deaf Cat explores the true adventures experienced by Michael Durack as a foreign English teacher and/or volunteer in China, Chile and Canada. It also chronicles his experience as an assistant caregiver along with his wife for his mother-in-law's final months in the Netherlands. In short, it provides an insight into the highs and lows of being a foreign teacher/volunteer/caregiver in a foreign environment that is a must-read for anyone contemplating a similar career or simply interested in knowing what it's

Size: 8.5x5.5

ISBN: 978-1-947019-04-1 EPub

ISBN: 978-1-947019-05-8 Paper Back

ISBN: 978-1-947019-07-2 MOBI

Stephanie Timmer

Apollo Publications.

630-206-0235

email us here

Conversations With a Deaf Cat

Ever wonder what it's like to be to work in a foreign country, experience new foods and cultures and maybe find a way to help other people while you do it? Most people who become foreign teachers imagine going off to some exotic destination to share their knowledge with people who don't have the same advantages as them. Sounds like an exciting and noble adventure, right?

But what happens if you take the plunge and go off to another country where you don't even speak the language and EVERYTHING GOES WRONG? How do you deal with getting stuck doing a job you never wanted to do, dealing with deceptive employers, or not getting paid on time, if at all?

Conversations With a Deaf Cat explores the true adventures experienced by Michael Durack as a foreign English teacher and/or volunteer in China, Chile and Canada. It also chronicles his experience as an assistant caregiver along with his wife for his mother-in-law's final months in the Netherlands. In short, it provides an insight into the highs and lows of being a foreign teacher/volunteer/caregiver in a foreign environment that is a must-read for anyone contemplating a similar career or simply interested in knowing what it's REALLY like.
M.D.

Cover illustration by Yolande Wassenberg

This press release can be viewed online at: <http://www.einpresswire.com>

Disclaimer: If you have any questions regarding information in this press release please contact the company listed in the press release. Please do not contact EIN Presswire. We will be unable to assist you with your inquiry. EIN Presswire disclaims any content contained in these releases.

© 1995-2017 IPD Group, Inc. All Right Reserved.