

TECPOLUK Now Developing Affordable Custom Mobile Apps for Small Businesses

TECPOLUK is developing Business Mobile Apps at economic rates in order to serve the local small businesses.

NEWBURY, BERKSHIRE, UK, May 25, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- TECPOLUK – Headquartered in Newbury/Berkshire is a company known widely for their services in web design and mobile development. As of now, the company is proud to announce their new low-cost mobile app development service for local small businesses. According to the company, mobile app development for Small Businesses can be rather expensive, which deprives small business owners of this profitable business expansion opportunity. Mobile apps are known to be beneficial for small businesses in more ways than one. As apps continue to dominate the mobile web, a market trend study conducted in 2016 suggests that mobile web users spend 86% of their online time using apps.

By having well-designed mobile apps, small businesses are exposed to an entirely new realm of potential customers. Businesses can interact with their clients efficiently and provide a personalized experience, which increases customer loyalty. Mobile apps for businesses are a globally recognized factor for increasing customer engagement, generating repeat business and ultimately increasing a company's yearly revenue.
