Global Wetsuits Market

Description

Wetsuits are worn by surfers, divers, windsurfers, triathletes, and individuals involved in water sports. A wetsuit is manufactured using foamed neoprene that provides thermal insulation, buoyancy, and abrasion resistance. The insulation properties of wetsuits are dependent on the bubbles of gas enclosed within the material of the wetsuit. This reduces its capacity to conduct heat. The bubbles of gas maintain low density and provide buoyancy in water.
