Analysts Launches Information Technology Blog

ATLANTA, GEORGIA, UNITED STATES, June 7, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- On June 1, 2017, Analysts, a premier provider of outcome-based Information Technology (IT) Consulting and Solutions to businesses and government agencies worldwide, and an operating brand within the ACS Group, launched its new company blog. The blog is dedicated to “Bridging the Gap Between Strategy and IT,” and sharing information and best practices in healthcare, government, and criminal justice, to name a few.

The original content is provided by our leading industry experts at Analysts, the IT Consulting and Solutions Strategy arm of ACS Group. Our industry leaders include: Enterprise Information Management (EIM) Practice Director, Chris Grenz; Group Vice President of Solutions, Jeff Hoekstra; and Healthcare Solutions Practice Director, Joe Wivoda.

“Our thought leaders share their skill and insight with our clients every day,” said Jeff Hoekstra, Group Vice President. “We’re excited to give them a platform to now reach an even wider audience with their thoughts on business and technology tools, best practices, and industry trends.”

Collectively, the editors and contributing authors of this blog have a vast amount of experience in the information technology space, including Application Solutions, Enterprise Information Management, Cloud Services, Infor/Lawson ERP, Secure Information Sharing, and QA/Testing.

“As a long time blogger, I’m looking forward to the Analysts blog as a collection of experiences and ideas where our clients and friends can read and discuss technology challenges relevant to their situations,” said EIM Practice Director, Chris Grenz.

Analysts is scheduled to release at least two articles per month. Please visit <http://www.acsicorp.com/analystsblog/> for more information.
