

Fearless Dominates Europe, Brings Good Will from America to Men in Several Countries

FEARLESS, the personal improvement site that helps men push through fear, live courageously and get high impact results in all areas of their lives

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, June 8, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Upon their return from a five-week tour of Europe, the FEARLESS co-founders Brian Begin and David Stultz looked back on the weeks' incredible adventures and were reminded of the common struggles men around the globe regularly confront - masculinity, sexual shame, 'nice guy' syndrome and an inability to lead anyone, let alone themselves - that women want to see corrected before establishing a relationship.

“While our European tour landed us physically in England, Romania and the Netherlands, our FEARLESS workshops saw attendees originating from many other countries, such as Poland, Germany, Israel, Croatia, Austria, Belgium, Italy, Russia, Greece and even the US, says Stultz. “Our new students were aware enough to know that there is something wrong in their daily lives, but they haven't found quality coaching and support that gets real-world results.”

In five weeks, Begin and Stultz worked with 85 men, leaving them with a new set of skills to go live their dream lives with confidence, connection and emotional awareness they never understood before.

“Most of our work is experiential and very little theory or lecture is used,” says Stultz. “As we dig into personal insecurities, we had men with tears in their eyes, facing their deepest fears and insecurities about their physical features while working on masculine leadership skills. We also found that European clients take critical feedback more positively than in the US, where people are often used to being 'babied' along their journey.”

“Brian and I started with a two-day Introduction seminar in Bucharest, Romania for new students, followed by an Advanced week-long intensive workshop for those who completed a Basic week-long workshop in Romania or Los Angeles. We were also invited as keynote speakers at an event in Amsterdam with Zan Perrion, then hosted a three-day introductory workshop again in Bucharest, The

After completion of their first workshop in Romania, Begin and Stultz received word from an American client that in ONE WEEK he had just brought in an additional five million dollars to his hedge fund, confirming that not only are the results of FEARLESS workshops lasting, they also can be immediate.

“We all need guidance in some form or another, and the US is well-known for delivering some of the best personal growth mentoring on the planet, at least in this modern age. Men are now less shameful about asking and seeking out professional guidance to better understand themselves and how they relate to others while figuring out what is holding them back in business, dating, and the world of emotional intelligence.”

With each client presenting different challenges for themselves and to them as coaches, the FEARLESS co-founders continuously look to further and refine their skill sets to produce real-world results for clients to implement at a rapid pace suitable for today's ever-evolving world.
