John Smith from Infinity Cruises said, "We find Ami very useful to our business with her ability to learn quickly and help us generate sales."

Lawrence Turner, Founder, Active OMG said "The investment seems worthwhile when I see AMI's conversations delivering our customers the sales we envisaged two years ago. We see Ami as our child who we are helping to learn how to convert prospects to customers. She's only two years old, and we are already proud of her (AMI)"

Ami is a fully conversational self-learning AI. Ami's mission is to boost online sales, and generate qualified sales leads for traditional sales teams. Ami is as easy to implement as Google Analytics. She reads her client's websites and digests any other information she is fed. Ami has an innate ability to service customers, and to learn continuously, never going home. Unlike a human she never gets tired. Instead, she gets better the harder you work her.

Ami is available from today to the travel industry.
