

Quality IT Partners Named One of INC. MAGAZINE'S BEST WORKPLACES 2017

Quality IT Partners is ranked #3 in America of best workplaces in the small business sector by Inc. Magazine, spotlighted in the June 2017 Issue

MOUNT AIRY, MARYLAND, US, June 22, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Mount Airy, Maryland (June 22, 2017) – Quality IT Partners has been named the third best workplace in America by Inc. Magazine, in the publication's annual ranking of the nation's fast-growing small business private company sector.

Hitting newsstands in the June 2017 issue, and as part of a prominent Inc.com feature, the list is the result of a wide-ranging and comprehensive measurement of private American companies who have created exceptional workplaces through vibrant cultures, deep employee engagement, and stellar benefits. Out of thousands of applicants, Inc. Magazine singled out just over 200 winning companies, of which Quality IT Partners is among the top 50 highest scoring - achieving position three nationwide.

Built in partnership with employee engagement and work culture experts Quantum Workplace of Omaha, Nebraska, Inc.'s Best Workplaces list is a magnifying glass on how innovative companies can truly raise the bar in hiring and retaining the best talent.

What does it take to become a company that workers want to be part of? Inc. magazine says it's more than good pay and good perks – it's also about having a clear purpose, a sense of humor, and leadership that makes the two work together.

Mark Debnam, Founder and CEO of Quality IT Partners shares "I consider it my primary responsibility to nurture and preserve our business culture of kindness, respect, and genuine caring for the well-being of everyone. Folks in our organization sense this appreciatively, feel part of a family, and it becomes contagious. We thrive - and we thrive strong together sharing the philosophy of One for all, and all for one."

The 2017 Inc. Best Workplaces Awards assessed applicants on the basis of benefits offered and employees' responses to a unique, 30-question survey fielded by each of the applying companies. Responses were evaluated by the research team at Quantum Workplace. For its results to qualify, each company had to achieve a statistically significant response rate based on employee count. Survey scores account for employer size to level the playing field between small and large businesses. All companies had to have minimum of 10 employees and to be U.S.-based, privately held, and independent – that is, not subsidiaries or divisions of other companies.

While researching the entries, Inc. and Quantum saw distinct themes develop:

- Strong company cultures breed stunning individual and team performance.
- Workers at the best companies don't view their employers as sugar daddies. They aren't mesmerized by whatever giveaways seem to be the latest fad—be it gourmet lunches or beer fridges.
- When employees feel valued by their organization, they are far more likely to be engaged. This single factor proved to be one of the largest drivers of employee engagement.

- Here at Quality, we live a special corporate culture together every day. While there are many dimensions of our dynamic company, the most important is our culture. We consider ourselves a family. We care for one another, we rely on one another, and we look out for each other. Building a company on these principles means that we all share in our successes and challenges alike. None of us here at Quality celebrates achievement or faces adversity alone. We are committed to fostering the advancement of our team members through education and leadership opportunities.

“By introducing an employee survey into this year’s Best Workplaces selection process, we’ve really raised the bar. Companies that don’t score at the very top of their peer group don’t make the cut. So, our hats are off to the winners. They all excelled at engaging their workers, making them feel appreciated, and aligning them behind a mission. And remember, that’s not just our opinion: The employees told us that themselves.”
