

Toronto Actress Jennifer Gibson Coaches Actors to Book Major TV and Film Roles

Jennifer Gibson, one of Talent INC Canada's most sought after acting coaches, has helped scores of actors reach new heights with her refined teaching methods.

TORONTO, ON, CANADA, June 27, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Jennifer Gibson has appeared in a long list of high-profile productions over the course of her career. The Bold and The Beautiful, Maps to the Stars, Kim's Convenience, Covert Affairs, Hemlock Grove, Nikita, Degrassi and Guiding Light are just a few from her vast resume.

"Her longevity and experience is what makes her such a valid and relevant teacher for our students" explains Talent INC Canada's co-founder, Doug Sloan.

When Talent INC Canada started to expand back in 2012 Jennifer was one of the first acting coaches brought on board. Since joining the Talent INC family she has coached actors that have successfully booked roles on major sets all across Canada.

John Stevens, the other co-founder of Talent INC Canada says, "Jennifer's success rate is remarkable. She has a very holistic approach to working with an actor. When she is coaching she not only is working with the actor on interpreting the script, but she is also delving into that individual actor's experience of the script as well".

I have no complaints and would recommend Jennifer and Talent INC Canada to anyone pursuing a career in acting”

We spoke to one of her current students, Tiffany Elefano, about what she gained from working with Jennifer and she had this to say, "I have no complaints and would recommend Jennifer and Talent INC Canada to anyone pursuing a career in acting. Jennifer helped me develop my characters for scene work and taught me how to bring my roles to life. She always gives me honest and supportive feedback. I truly believe it was her training and of course my incredible agent, Colin McMurray that helped me land a principal role on, Creeped Out".

Jennifer teaches scene study, character development, script analysis and audition technique. One of the many reasons she makes such a valuable coach is that she has worked as a reader and a casting assistant for many projects as well. Learning what casting directors respond to both negatively and positively has given her an edge that most coaches can't compete with.

The admiration seems to be mutual as Jennifer talks about her class.

"What I love about working with the students at Talent INC is the trust and support that exists here. It is unlike anywhere else and people feel that. It allows students to be open, free, vulnerable and to take their craft to the next level. It is a safe space for talent to be nurtured. I am particularly proud of the work the students put in. My teacher and mentor Larry Moss once said 'You must have a talent for your talent and that is hard work.' As with anything, you get out of it what you put into it, and that is glowingly evident in class. It is a privilege and a pleasure to work with these talented artists", says Gibson.
