

FUSION WARS COMPETITIVE BETA FOR OCVLUS RIFT ANNOUNCED

VERSIONS FOR HTC VIVE, PSVR AND STEAM (NON-VR) NOW ALSO IN THE WORKS

MADRID, SPAIN, June 23, 2017

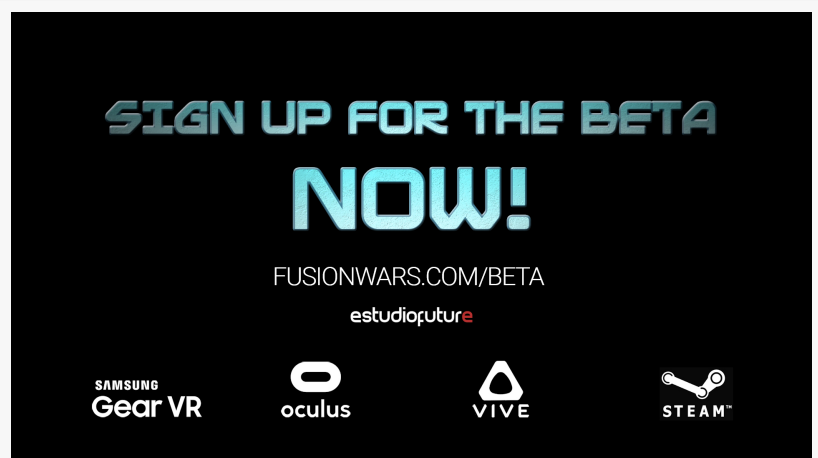

/EINPresswire.com/ --

ESTUDIOFUTURE announces the start of a CLOSED BETA for the NEW MULTIPLAYER COMPETITIVE MODE of its FUSION WARS VR game, ahead of its official and final release on Oculus Rift and Samsung Gear VR.

Starting today Friday, the 23rd June, Oculus Rift users will be able to pre-register for the CLOSED BETA, which will run for one week. Players can sign up now on the www.fusionwars.com/beta site, with registrations closing on Sunday, the 2nd July.

The new MULTIPLAYER COMPETITIVE MODE of FUSION WARS will feature a gorgeous eSports style looking battle arena, where up to 8 players will be able to fight co-operatively in 2 teams. This CORE BATTLE MODE will require teams to take control of the FUSION CORE, and protect it for as long as possible, while AI controlled PvE enemies will show up along the fight, and which players may conquer so they fight on their side.

The registered users for the CLOSED BETA will also have a chance to experience firsthand the new and greatly improved version of the game, specially optimized for the Oculus Rift, and which final version will also contain new awesome levels on its CAMPAIGN MODE, as well as many new content and cool features.

ABOUT FUSION WARS

FUSION WARS is a PvE & PvP online multi-player and fast VR arcade action game, in which you will take control of a futuristic combat ship, and enter the domains of an android menace ruled by the huge and powerful "Mother Queen".

Fight on your own, or coordinate with other players the best strategy to defeat the hordes of android enemies, and co-operate during the fight to enter the "fusion mode", merging your space tanks to become a stronger and more powerful combat unit, and splitting roles as driver and gunner. You will need to overcome and destroy the evil droid creations, recovering the energy Cores that feed the Mother Queen's realm, and get prepared for the ultimate great battle.

FUSION WARS currently allows multi-player action for up to 4 players on the PvE arcade mode, and the upcoming final version will also offer PvP matches for up to 16 players within a same and spectacular eSports looking combat arena. Players will be able to fight each other or in teams, granting constant clashes, where teamwork can make all the difference through fusion of combat ships.

FUSION WARS is one of the first co-op multiplayer and cross-platform FPS combat games that can be played from both the Samsung Gear VR and the Oculus Rift, sharing the same battlefields and co-op actions and providing an intense and fun experience. A version for the HTC VIVE, PlayStation VR and Windows Mixed Reality headsets, together with a non-VR version for Steam, are as well on the works, planned for release along 2017.
