

Cloudbakers Announces First Live Google Jamboard Event This July

Google's new digital whiteboard is technology's latest and greatest, but business leaders are wanting to test out the device before bringing it to the office.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, UNITED STATES, June 26, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Cloudbakers, Premier Google Cloud Partner and Charter Jamboard Partner, announced the first Google Jamboard live event. This open house will take place on July 12, 2017, blocks away from one of the newest U.S. Google offices. The popularity of Google's Jamboard since its release date on May 23, 2017 is remarkable. The only way to gain access is through Google approved partners.

The digital whiteboard builds on G Suite's collaborative experience, ideal for all organizations, whether they work from a single location, remotely or via satellite locations. It brings together an old school creativity tool and today's most productive software, multiplying the benefits two-fold – exactly Google's goal when they initially took this innovative idea to the drawing board. It looks and feels like a whiteboard, complete with two styluses and an eraser, but is also an integration inspiration with the ability to do internet searches, transcribe information, add in relevant content where needed and automatically share a copy with every meeting participant.

Jamboard is the latest innovation from Google in their worlds best heritage of tools. These types of tools are essential in enabling businesses to scale effectively, innovate and reduce costs.”

Mitch Greewald, Founder of Cloudbakers

Clients who made the purchase at the first opportunity are already more productive through the device and its integration with G Suite. Business leaders are yearning to get their hands on the most progressive and creative meeting and collaboration tool available. The upcoming open house gives these leaders a chance to take a test drive and explore use cases with their peers and colleagues.

“World class mid-market clientele partner with Cloudbakers

due to their expertise with world class collaboration tools”, said Mitch Greenwald, Founder of Cloudbakers. The company is long known for their G Suite migrations and change management program that helps Mid-Market organizations move to a complete cloud environment. Mitch continues, “Jamboard is the latest innovation from Google in their worlds best heritage of tools, aiding their clients in further collaboration. These types of tools are essential in enabling businesses to scale effectively, innovate and reduce costs”.
