Opening Remarks by Lokesh Kumar, Associate Scientist from Genentech at Lyophilization USA 2017

NEW JERSEY, ISELIN, USA, June 28, 2017
/EINPresswire.com/ -- SMi Group are delighted to have keynote speaker, Lokesh Kumar to open day one of Lyophilization USA, who will address the presentation: 'Hydrogen Deuterium Exchange Mass Spectrometry for formulation/process optimization in lyophilized solids.'

Gathering a global audience of scientific experts and drug manufacturers, the event will address a variety of crucial topics around the world including PAT, QbD, protein formulation and innovative packaging.

Lokesh Kumar's presentation will discuss:

- The impact of formulation parameters
- Processing parameters, including ice nucleation
- Examining the correlation of HDX-MS data with stress stability

Detailed agenda available at: www.lyophilization-usa.com

Excellent balance of topics within freeze-drying and even slightly outside it!”

Past attendee - Biopharma

Lokesh Kumar, is an Associate Scientist in the department of Pharmaceutical Processing and Technology Development at Genentech. He is responsible for developing and optimizing lyophilization cycle(s) for Genentech's pipeline drug candidates. His current research work primarily focuses on evaluating the effect of lyophilization processing on solid-state degradation of protein formulations.

For those looking to attend there is currently a $300 early-bird saving which will expire this Friday June 30th.
