Medical Disposables Market 2017

Executive Summary

Medical disposables are single-use products that help to reduce HAIs. To improve patient care, many hospitals in developed and developing countries are using such products. To increase patient safety, end-users such as hospitals, ambulatory surgery centers (ASCs), clinics, home care centers, and physicians' offices are using medical disposable products. These products are cost-effective and reduce the risk of hospital-acquired infections (HAIs), which, in turn, decreases prolonged hospital stay and reduces the cost burden on patients.

The analysts forecast the global medical disposables market to grow at a CAGR of 7.11% during the period 2017-2021.
