

Psychic Medium John Cappello of Visionary Workshop to be Featured on CUTV News Radio

LANTANA, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, July 5, 2017

/EINPresswire.com/ -- There is as symphony of energy. If you've ever had a hunch or a gut feeling, those are psychic impressions. Too often we ignore the signals that come to us psychically. The more we pay attention to that which is beyond the physical, the more profound our daily experience can be.

John Cappello is a certified psychic medium who has won wide acclaim for his work in metaphysics. Voted the number one male psychic in the United States for 2017 And "Man of the Year," by American Psychic and Medium Magazine, Cappello travels throughout the United States demonstrating his extraordinary skills in reading energy.

"You can't be a real psychic unless you want to help people," says Cappello. "People don't come to psychics and mediums for entertainment. They come to us when they have a problem. I'm trying to give people tools to help them move from one stage of grief to the next."

There are three types of mediums: evidential, trance and physical. Cappello is an evidential medium. He can provide detailed and accurate messages from the spirit world with details he would have no other way of knowing.

"When you go to personal counseling, you talk. When you see a psychic, we do the talking," explains Cappello. "We validate people's emotions and their station in life but we're supposed to keep to the facts as best as we can."

Open Mind.

"It didn't take me any time at all to tap into the ability, and to tell you the truth I'm surprised that other people can't do what I do," says Cappello. "I went to take some classes and discovered I had natural ability to do this kind of work. I practiced and did it as a hobby for five years, but I had so many people calling me for readings that I decided to hang my shingle."

When we experience a loss, we grieve. As a psychic, Cappello can bring a unique perspective on grief and metaphysics, the topic of his third book: Open the Mind: Heal the Heart.

“In situations with severe grief, psychic readings can bring a great deal of healing to a client, but the psychic or the medium needs to exhibit good judgment,” says Cappello. “We must do everything we possibly can to ensure a reading is a positive experience for the client.”

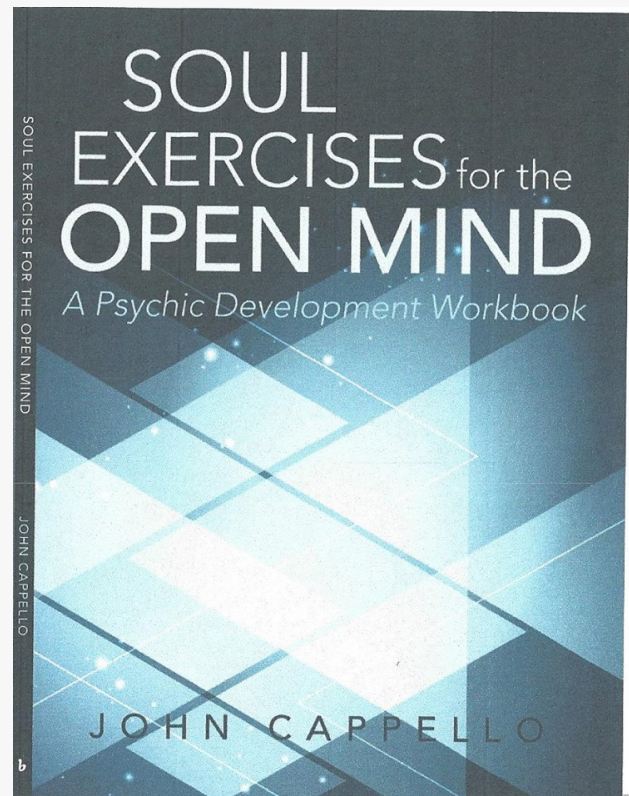

CUTV News Radio will feature John Cappello in an interview with Jim Masters on July 7th at 1pm EDT.
