The event takes place August 29-30, 2017 in San Diego, CA and focuses on “Building the High-Performance Organization in the Age of Disruption.”

The Gig Economy. Millennial Workforce. Disruptive Technology.

In a business landscape rocked by constant change and turmoil, companies like Airbnb, Cisco, GE Digital, Google, IBM and Microsoft are re-inventing the future of work.

What is it that makes these companies so different? They're strategic, they're agile, and they're customer-focused. But, most importantly, they're game changers. And their workplace practices reflect this.

“Everything we took for granted in the past—from what we expect from our jobs to whom we work with and how—is changing before our eyes,” says Kevin Mulcahy, partner of Future Workplace. The strongest organizations today are ‘learning machines.’ New challenges require new solutions—and these organizations are finding them.”

If you want to compete in years to come, you must meet the future now. Kevin will reveal ‘The 10 Strategies for Mastering the Disruptive Workplace’ at the Enterprise Learning! Conference (ELC17) on August 30th in San Diego, CA. He will share an actionable framework for meeting today's toughest business disruptions head on; And, the ten rules for rethinking, reimagining, and reinventing your organization.

Every keynote attendee will receive a complimentary copy of Kevin's book titled, “The Future Workplace Experience”; Your playbook for taking your organization to the top of your industry. This book profiles exclusive research into how forward-looking companies are navigating the future workforce and workplace. These practices are segmented around how organizations are responding to three macro shifts: What workers expect from work; How technology transforms the workplace;
