Global Civil Helicopters Market:

In the recent years, there has been major focus on enabling the helicopters for operation in remote areas and in areas where airfields are under development or completely nonexistent by using vertical takeoff and landing capabilities. Moreover, the increasing demand for offshore transportation and demand for helicopters in Express Mail Service (EMS) & law enforcement are some of the major factors driving the market growth.

The economic slowdown in 2008 had adversely impacted the civil helicopter market with severe decline in of the number of delivered units. Thus, economic uncertainties are major restraints for this market.

The key players of the global civil helicopter market are

- Bell Helicopter Textron Inc.
- AVIC Helicopter Company
