Key Highlights

- The wireless telecommunications services market is defined here as including cellular (mobile) phones, pagers, and any other wireless or cellular telecommunication service. Revenues are based on payments to operators of all of these services for subscriptions and usage. Market volumes represent total numbers of subscribers. Market shares in this report are in terms of subscriber volumes. All currency conversions were carried out at constant 2016 average annual exchange rates.
- The global wireless telecommunication services market had total revenues of $785.9bn in 2016, representing a compound annual rate of change (CARC) of -2.3% between 2012 and 2016.
- Market consumption volume increased with a CAGR of 3.8% between 2012 and 2016, to reach a total of 6,300.7 million subscribers in 2016.
- Subscription volumes are to follow a decelerated growth trend in future as mobile penetration rates will grow at a slower pace as they approach their peak. Nevertheless, the expansion of mobile internet services will continue to drive the global market value, based on the still expanding 4G network and the roll out of the 5G network over the coming years.
