Global Cement Market By Type, By Application (construction, infrastructure) - Forecast 2016-2022.

PUNE, MAHARASHTRA, INDIA, August 16, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Market Synopsis of Cement Market:

Market Scenario:

Cement is a key binding substance that is intended for use in building or construction material and utilized as a prime part of the main mixtures for construction. Cement is referred as one of the most used material in the world due to widespread use in construction activities.

High disposable income and increasing number of nuclear families and rising need for accommodation development are some factors which drive the market of cement. Moreover, growing demand for housing, rapid urbanization among others are encouraging factors for Cement Market. Government initiatives for providing good infrastructure facility, roads and bridges are further fueling the demand for cement market. However, the rising production cost makes these features unaffordable for consumers and hamper the market of cement. Global Cement Market is expected to grow at a CAGR of approximately 8% during the forecast period.

The major player operating in the market of global cement are Lafarge, Holcim Ltd, Anhui Conch Cement Company Ltd, HeidelbergCement AG, Jidong Development Group Co. Ltd., CEMEX S.A.B. de C.V.”
