South Sudan Disaster Reliefs - Mission Trip

Background information:

With violence at the root of the crisis (since the outbreak of Civil War in 2013), the UNHCR states, "The situation in South Sudan continues to worsen with a combination of conflict, drought and famine leading to further displacement and a rapid exodus of people fleeing one of the world's most severe crises." So severe is the crisis in fact that there are over 1.8 million refugees displaced, with 1 million of those refugees being children.

Objective:

Sending food and medical aids to nearly 3500 refugees in 6 camps that are spread in 3 different areas (Morobi and Barameling camps in Moyo district, northern Uganda, Bidibidi and Swiga camps in Yumbe district, northern Uganda, and Kerua camp in the border of South Sudan).
