

Cloudbakers Hires Eric Lannert as Chief Technology Officer

From 2010 tech startup to Google's Premier Partner, Cloudbakers takes another step forward by hiring CTO, Eric Lannert, to scale and continue innovation.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS, UNITED STATES, August 28, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Cloudbakers welcomes Eric Lannert

today as its new CTO. The bootstrapped cloud services company has been successful attracting top technical talent stemming from the Founder, Mitch Greenwald, who prior to starting Cloudbakers, was a CIO himself. High growth and a commitment to provide best of class cloud technology solutions has lead to the need for another Executive level technical position. Eric Lannert fits the bill perfectly.

Eric is equally impressed with Cloudbakers, our principled commitment, solution focus and technology leadership.”

Mitch Greenwald

Lannert has extensive experience in technology, consulting, strategy, process improvement and employee development. He will be based out of the company's headquarters in Chicago, Illinois.

As with all of the company's employees, Cloudbakers takes pride in their philosophy of 'connecting with people and contributing to their purpose'. His alignment with Cloudbakers' core values is evident in his experience in working as Program Director at the Digital Youth Directory at DePaul University, VP of Technology at i.c.Stars (a non profit that Cloudbakers also supports) and as a former manager within Accenture. His advanced degrees in Computer Science and Finance as well as Artificial Intelligence, only scratch the surface of his dedication to lifelong learning.

“I have known Eric for many years,” says Mitch Greenwald. “Eric recently worked with Cloudbakers through a collaboration with one of our clients and our application development team. He was equally impressed with Cloudbakers, our principled commitment, solution focus and technology leadership.”

This mutual excitement and commitment makes Lannert's official transition into the company a simple one. Cloudbakers has made tremendous progress over the last several years and is well positioned for growth and success. This addition to the team is yet another progressive step in the company's evolution as they continue to focus on providing their clients the best of cloud strategies and user adoption methods.

About Cloudbakers

Cloudbakers is a privately-held cloud services company that transforms mid-market organizations by planning their cloud strategy, deploying solutions, and adopting new technologies through a customized change management program. Their expertise in Google Cloud and Zoho allows their clients to leverage tools from G Suite to CRM to Chrome and custom applications using Google Cloud Platform. The company's purpose is to connect with people, and contribute to their purpose, whether that be providing better healthcare, customer service, or operational efficiency.
