The resort recently unveiled its Digital Detox initiative, which encourages guests to disconnect from the digital world by surrendering their electronic devices upon check in so they can fully relax during their stay. Televisions, phones and alarm clocks are also removed from guestrooms. 2. Privacy and Seclusion: Situated in a lush, remote location, Indura boasts 15 romantic scattered villas that were built in harmony with the surrounding nature. Ideal for honeymooners who want to get away from it all and have ample opportunities to unwind and recharge, Indura offers a variety of couple-oriented activities to pick from including joint spa treatments, private dinners by the beach, and more. Aside from plenty of romance and privacy, Indura features five restaurants, private villa pools, the Maina Spa, a championship 18-hole golf course and an array of fun daytrips and excursions for thrill seekers.
3. Nature and Adventure: For nature lovers, Honduras' northern coast offers dozens of must-see attractions and opportunities to get up close and personal with Mother Nature. The area is famous for the Jeanette Kawas National Park bustling with wildlife and native flora and visitors typically encounter monkeys, crocodiles and colorful birds. Los Micos Lagoon, the largest saltwater lagoon in the Atlantida region, is truly an astounding birdwatcher's paradise with over 350 species sighted. The scenic park features extensive mangrove forests as well as spectacular ocean and sunset views. Daring couples might consider embarking on diving and snorkeling excursions to Capiro Bank Coral Reef departing right off the shores of Indura. Kayaking in nearby mangroves, horseback riding on the beach and trekking are also among favorite guest activities.
