Description

Wiseguyreports.Com Adds “Xanthan Gum -Market Demand, Growth, Opportunities and Analysis Of Top Key Player Forecast To 2023” To Its Research Database

According to Statistics MRC, the Global Xanthan Gum market is expected to grow from $351.24 million in 2016 to reach $485.64 million by 2023 with a CAGR of 4.7%. Growing demand for glutenfree and natural products, changes in consumer lifestyle & preference, and increasing demand from food & beverage industry are the factors boosting the market growth during the forecast period. However, quality issues of xanthan gum, competition from substitute products are hindering the market growth.

Among the applications, food & beverage segment is expected to witness high growth rate during the forecast period due to growing usage of xanthan gum in confectionery products, sauces & dressings, dairy products, and bakery products. Thickeners segment is witnessing a significant growth driven by rising applications in personal care. North America accounted for the largest share in global market due to increasing awareness about healthier diet products, rising in oil drilling activities. Asia Pacific is expected to witness fastest growth on account of rising demand from china.
