

No nukes, no war: Love is the gun for peace

9/11 album release by JAZZ AT HEART

BERLIN, GERMANY, September 8, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Berlin, Germany. There is a need for change in the current world of escalating aggression. How to tell everyone? The music album entitled "Love is the gun" released on the symbolic date 9/11 by the German music group JAZZ AT HEART sends a musical message of humanity, love and peace. This band speaks up loud, sensitive and with beauty of the extraordinary jazz singers Christina Jaschkowiak, Della Miles and Marie-Luise Boening. The musical message by the international band of nine is embracing modern music. Called "more than jazz" it is R&B, Soul, Latin, HardRock, world and classic music styles melted with jazz. The sixteen songs are a kaleidoscope, a modern "St. Pepper's lonely hearts club band" telling stories of life. The album and music videos are available worldwide by download and streaming providers. JAZZ AT HEART around the cardiac physicians Christina Jaschkowiak and Gustav Steinhoff supports humanity organizations like "doctors without borders" and strives with their musical message for life in peace.
