

5 tips for finding the best skin clinic in Los Angeles

People who are looking for a place to have skin treatments at a clinic in Los Angeles should follow these tips for the best possible experience.

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, September 4, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- 1) Look for training

"The best clinics train their staff on a regular basis. They send employees to classes to learn about new techniques and update current protocols. These clinics will offer the best options and be happy to share their knowledge and education with their clients," advises Marion Simms, owner of Skin Sense Wellness in LA.

2) Examine the office

Ms. Simms said ask for a tour of the facility before committing to an appointment. Items to look for are:

- Hygiene
- Modern equipment
- Courteous staff
- Clean and tidy treatment rooms. Protective gloves and masks where applicable.

3) Quality products

"Anything the clinic sells should come from reputable companies. Ask your aesthetician why they have chosen to use the particular product lines they carry and what the benefits are." Ms. Simms said.

4) Advice

"Skin care clinics should always offer a consultation and advise you about the kind of products that will be used before doing any treatment," Simms says. "The most professional clinics also know when it is necessary to recommend a dermatologist to their clients and will have a referral for the client to contact.”

"We've had clients come in with skin issues that need medical attention. We direct them to a dermatologist," Ms. Simms said. "Our clients skin health is the most important thing to us and it should be important to all truly professional skin clinics as well."

5) Samples

"Before investing in a skin care product, you should try it first to avoid any sensitivity. Skin varies greatly and will react differently to each formula. Ask for samples" Ms. Simms recommends.
