Alive Experience” where attendees can feel what it's like to be buried in a fresh grave complete with funeral procession, a “Zombie Prom” on Halloween night, Will Keenan's special readings of the poems of Edgar Allan Poe (“One Man Poe” Oct 7th), a “Trunk Or Treat” for parents & kids on Oct 18th and the famed Zombie Crawl players kicking off the production Sept 29th. Other highlights include appearances by the Jersey Devil, a downed alien spaceship, and famed Cape May County luminaries Andrew J. Tomlin, Vinnie Coachman, among others. As reported recently in stories in The Philadelphia Inquirer, The Press Of Atlantic City and Cape May Magazine (links below), Keenan returned to south Jersey last summer to take care of his sick mother, Barbara, after 14 years in LA and 13 years in NYC then decided to relocate to the Jersey Cape, saving one of Cape May County's most historic churches and cemeteries (Goshen United Methodist) and renaming it after his deceased career-RN mother in efforts to promote recovery, spirituality and the arts.

Says Keenan, "St.Babs resides on one of New Jersey's most historic and iconic cemeteries, and during our Halloween attraction whole families can experience local legends come back to life plus a few really great scares. All of Cape May County is known to be haunted and we're going to prove it this season with 'Tromeo's Halloween Cemetery Scare!' at St.Babs."

Co-Executive Producers Rob & Jenn Hasson, say, "Do you wish to see sights unseen? Then join us here at St.Babs for Halloween... Specters, ghouls and grinning ghosts are clamoring to be your host, come to us and hear our stories, as we regale our past glories with a little bit of history, wrapped in revenant mystery. So, when it's dark and chills fill the air, COME TO TROMEO'S HAUNTED HALLOWEEN CEMETERY SCARE."
