

Reverend Dr. Sandy Range of Intentional Self to be Featured on CUTV News Radio

STOUGHTON, MASSACHUSETTS, UNITED STATES, September 13, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Traditional medicine treats disease through surgery, radiation and drugs. But many people are now seeking holistic practitioners who, instead, attempt to prevent and heal illnesses at their roots, through a healthy diet, medicinal herbs and intentional living.

Reverend Dr. Sandy is a multicultural, multiethnic, vegetarian Cherokee elder and founder of Intentional Self, an holistic counseling and wellness center.

Dr. Sandy is also an ordained minister, spiritual counselor, holistic psychotherapist and hypnotherapist specializing in trauma related disorders. She is a Master Reiki practitioner and hosts traditional Native American healing circles.

“My philosophy is that human beings have a natural ability to heal themselves when all aspects of the person are addressed,” explains Dr. Sandy. “You cannot effectively treat someone’s ailments and not recognize the whole person. In my practice, we help people to heal and cleanse, and connect with their higher selves in order to live in the world intentionally.”

Dr. Sandy was inspired to pursue holistic health after a devastating medical diagnosis. By drinking a powerful tea of potent herbs combined with oxygen therapy, her tumors miraculously disintegrated and have remained absent 14 years later.

“This started me on the path to holistic wellness in every aspect of my life,” explains Dr. Sandy. “My mission is to educate others about holistic healing modalities; to let people know they have an alternative to traditional medicine. I’m not against the traditional medical model and I would never tell anyone not to see their own doctor, I just strongly advocate for holistic health and wellness.”

Every individual possesses the ability, power and will to heal themselves. Dr. Sandy encourages people to raise their consciousness to a healthy state of being through alternative wellness modalities. It can open you up to a life of good health and wellbeing in mind, body, and spirit.

CUTV news will feature Dr. Sandy in an interview with Doug Llewelyn on Friday September 15th at 1pm EDT.
