About Sports Drinks

Sports drinks are functional beverages formulated to maintain electrolytes balance in the body. They help in energizing an individual during exercise. Sports drinks are a combination of sugar, water, carbohydrates and electrolytes. They act as a fuel source, replacing the water lost during perspiration and maintaining the acid-base balance in the body during intense physical exercise. They are rapidly absorbed by the intestine to facilitate immediate improvement in productivity and performance.

TechNavio's analysts forecast the Sports Drinks market in Australia to grow at a CAGR of 6.17 percent over the period 2014-2019.
