

Avoid Regulatory Disincentives with NN Investment Partners B.V

Alistair Perkins, at NN Investments Partners B.V will be joining the Benelux Infrastructure Forum to discuss the optimal use of funding regulations.

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM, September 15, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/

-- Like most economies in the world today, the Benelux region relies heavily on international investment. With a lot of exciting infrastructure projects due to take place in the near future, the region is attracting many new foreign investors. However, the set of funding rules and regulations that are in place can act as a hindrance and discourage potential investors. Alistair Perkins, Head of Project Finance at NN Investments Partners B.V, will share his knowledge and discuss how this can be rectified at SMI's Benelux Infrastructure Forum.

Speaking on Day 1 of the conference, Mr Perkins will review both the positive and negative effects that regulations can have on long-term investment. He will deliberate the needs for regulatory standardisation in the Benelux market, as well as offer advice on how rules can be tailored for investors. There will also be a discussion on Solvency II.

Mr Perkins joins a speaker line-up of international bank and law firms including Allen & Overy LLP, Green Investment Bank, Macquarie Capital and more.

Benelux Infrastructure Forum 2017 will further cover alternative financing methods such as project bonds, pension funds, government funding, and project financing as well as growing on and offshore markets to which investors are attracted. Developments within the infrastructure market of the Benelux region will be reviewed to find out what challenges were faced, how these were overcome, and the outlook of the infrastructure market. The conference will feature presentations and discussions which will allow plenty of debate and interaction amongst delegates, and detailed analysis of the latest case studies.

In addition, there will be a pre-conference workshop on "Financing Offshore Wind in the New Competitive Auction Environment" hosted by Amsterdam Capital Partners, taking place on the 21st November 2017.

The conference has established itself as the industry-leading event for the Benelux region and will provide an unparalleled opportunity to learn and network amongst senior executives in this thriving industry. Benelux Infrastructure Forum provides a platform to meet major players within this industry from banks, constructors and institutional investors to the lawyers and the regulators.

For those who are looking to attend, there is a £100 early bird offer available online ending on the 29th September 2017.
