

First Employee at Elevated Roofing, Zoe Rice, Reaches Three Year Milestone

FRISCO, TEXAS, UNITED STATES, September 18, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- This year, the first full-time employee hired at Elevated Roofing, Zoe Rice, reached a milestone of three years with the company.

Rice was brought on in 2014 by her stepdad and owner of Elevated Roofing, Mike Witte, who at the time contracted only two part-time salesmen.

Today, Elevated Roofing is the most trusted roofing company in Frisco, TX with a fleet size of twenty trucks, an in-house teams of roofing and gutter experts, and an impressive GAF Master-Elite certification.

Like the company, Rice's role at Elevated Roofing has also seen change and growth.

Rice originally was hired to face-to-face market and develop relationships with professionals in industries who frequently require roofers.

We understand that our client's happiness is the main priority and without them we wouldn't be here.”

However, the company's success and growth demanded that Rice become more involved, from running the front desk and phones to launching Elevated Roofing into the digital and print marketing space.

“In a small business, especially a family-run business, you tend to wear a lot of hats! The motto is ‘when you see a need, fill it!’ so I've done a bit of everything,” says Rice.

Now, with a dedicated business and marketing team, Rice's official title is “Relationship Manager.”

As relationship manager, Rice manages Elevated Roofing's online and media reputation as well as spends time with the marketing and sales department ensuring that both clients and staff are happy throughout their entire experience.

“We understand that our client's happiness is the main priority and without them we wouldn't be here.

The bigger we get, it can be easy to lose touch with them throughout the process. That's where I am stepping in and making sure we maintain contact with them every step of the way," says Rice.

When prompted with what to expect out of Elevated Roofing's future, Rice only had exciting news to share:

"I don't want to give too much away, but we are looking at partnering with some local charitable organizations to volunteer as a team. Also, you may soon be hearing my voice on the air during your morning commute offering some practical tips for local homeowners," Rice gushed.
