

MLT HUB reward crowdfunding platform by DRC World INC is to go live on October 12

MLT HUB is a rewards-based crowdfunding platform, which allows businesses or individuals to make a pitch to raise capital online.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK, UNITED STATES, September 19, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As a vital tool of reward crowdfunding within the Diamond Reserve Club's ecosystem and as a commitment to all Club members who are considering tokenizing their projects through ICOs, Max Zaslavskiy and his team are unveiling MLT HUB.

MLT HUB is a rewards-based crowdfunding platform, which allows businesses or individuals to make a pitch to raise capital online. We gear MLT HUB toward startups, particularly those in creative fields, that don't qualify for traditional small-business loans but have compelling projects or are looking to test a market.

Anyone can contribute to a reward crowdfunding campaign on MLT HUB.

Since individual donations may be small, our idea is for business owners and entrepreneurs to persuade as many people as possible to pitch in. And the Diamond Reserve Club contains all necessary tools for just that.

Money raised on MLT HUB doesn't have to be paid back, but in return for donations, businesses provide rewards.

We realize, how difficult it is to fund a project to the point of going to market with a full scale prototype. This is precisely the goal behind the MLT HUB creation: to set the stage for your product, service or business proposition, so that it's seen, understood, and appreciated by the potential backers from the midst of the Diamond Reserve Club and around the world.

Hopefully, with the help of the MLT HUB and the Diamond Reserve Club ecosystem resources your product takes off and we'll be able to watch it rise in the charts together. After all, by the time DRC had gone online, the amount of bumps and bruises we've endured over time was comparable only to the amount of money we've lost making mistakes that could have been easily avoided, had we had something like the DRC ecosystem on our side in our time. So please, count on us. The diverse DRC consulting services are at your service and we would very much like for us both succeed.

Just know, that, once the project is successfully funded, the entirety of the Club's ecosystem is behind you. The total of 21 news sharing platforms are busy promoting your enterprise to nearly a million of our social network followers and to the entire world. Almost 300 of stellar marketing staff at our creative and digital marketing outlets are shaping ideas for your product to become a hit. Not to mention the possibility of Max Zaslavskiy himself taking interest in your idea and funding it out of his own pocket.

When your campaign is deemed a success, MLT HUB will collect a 5% fee, which will be then reinvested back into your project in a form of advertising support, operating costs coverage or recapitalization.

MLT HUB is scheduled to go online on October 12.
