Alan Dorling, Global Head-Pharmaceuticals & Life Sciences of IAG Cargo will deliver the opening address on day 1 at the 2017 Cold Chain Distribution Conference

LONDON, UNITED KINGDOM,
September 25, 2017 /EINPresswire.com/
-- Alan is currently responsible for the

Global leadership and product development of the constant climate precision time & temperature sensitive products business for IAG Cargo providing air-freighting solutions primarily for vaccines, biotechnology products, diagnostics and other temperature-sensitive pharmaceutical products to over 200 global destination points across the British Airways and Iberia network.

More than 100 cold chain industry leaders will gather for the opening address at the Copthorne Tara Hotel. Alan's remarks will focus on managing current and future pharmaceutical supply chains across a global air freight network, outlining market growth drivers for air freighting time and temperature sensitive products, as well presenting the opportunities for airlines to maximise product delivery service performance across a global network.

Other featured speakers for the 2017 agenda include World Courier, Marken, Eli Lilly, Modalis, Merck Sereno S.p.A, GSK and much more.

The 2-day conference will feature new case studies and an interactive panel discussion concentrating on the main challenges in achieving GDP guideline compliance and where can pharma focus investment to overcome them?

Latest confirmed attendees of Cold Chain Distribution 2017 include GW Pharmaceuticals, Wockhardt Pharmaceuticals, Porton Biopharma Ltd, Kyowa Kirin International plc, Pfizer, Roche Pharmaceuticals and many more.
