Description

WiseGuyReports.Com adds" Global Petcoke Market 2015-2019 "Research To Its Database.

Petcoke or petroleum coke is a porous solid infusible and insoluble dark grey to black mass composed of highly condensed aromatic polycyclic hydrocarbons with a small percentage of other organic compounds. Petcoke is a refinery by-product. Once all the valuable fractions have been extracted from crude oil, the residues or heavy fractions are subjected to additional processing known as coking. Coking is basically thermal cracking of heavy oil fractions to extract valuable light oil fractions. Petcoke is produced as a result of this process. The petcoke thus produced is known as green coke or fuel-grade petcoke. Green petcoke is further processed or refined to form calcined petcoke, suitable for use in aluminum, steel, fertilizer, paper, and paint and colouring industries.
